

Food business that have more than 20 outlets in NSW or 50 nationally must comply with the NSW FA fast choices nutritional labelling.

Example: A small mixed business selling pre packaged food and general merchandise employs 3 people who each spend approximately 13 hrs a week on food handling activities. The rest of their time is spent on non food related work.  $3 \times 13\text{hrs} = 39\text{hrs} \div 38 = \text{approx } 1 \text{ FTE food handler.}$

No. of full time equivalent food handlers (based on a 38hr week)

Staff involved solely in administrative, register/checkout or clerical tasks are not considered to be food handlers. The number of full time equivalent (FTE) food handlers is calculated as follows:  $\text{Number of food handlers} \times \text{hours each spends handling food per week} \div 38\text{hrs} = \text{FTE.}$
